Agenda Items:

1. Call to Order – At 3:05 pm, Chair Campbell opened the meeting, quorum is achieved, and the Chair invited Ian Watson, UPLAND to begin discussing the June 16, 2023 Consultation and Recommendations Report.

UPLAND noted that at the April 27, 2023 community meeting the community had requested more time to review the drafts, ask questions and provide feedback, and asked UPLAND to undertake additional engagement. UPLAND then undertook to reach out to community by way of surveys (mail and online), phone calls, zoom meetings and in person meetings with a plan to hold a future community meeting with an updated Draft LUB. UPLAND feels they had productive discussions with the community and received 10 survey submissions or written submissions and held 13 one-on-one meetings.

Community has identified engagement fatigue with not only the Draft LUB process but also because of other processes taking place over the past few years, but they believe doing the engagement has been worth it. The community recognizes the difficulty to balance community needs, goals and desires with that of personal ones. And that we need to reflect back on goals and how this project ties into a bigger body of work in Peggy's Cove (balance residential and commercial, protect the fishery, ensure everyone benefits in some way from hosting the world, role and structure of PCC)

UPLAND has condensed the report findings into five (5) general themes for discussion:

- Core Zone & Commercial Opportunity
- Vending
- Patios and Decks
- Community Zone
- Signage
